MEMBERSHIP CRITERIA

Full Membership

You are eligible for full membership if:

- You have made a substantial contribution through your work to the development of group analysis
- You are a graduate of a group analytic training institution registered with EGATIN.

Associate Membership

You are eligible for associate membership if:

- You have a serious and consistent interest in group analysis and wish to become involved in the work of the Society
- You have participated in group analytic workshops or courses.

Student Membership

You are eligible for student membership if you are currently a student in any of the training organisations recognised as an introductory, intermediate or qualifying member of EGATIN, or other courses approved by the Group-Analytic Society (London). You are required to apply annually.

Your completed application will be considered by the Committee of the Society and you will then be contacted and informed of their decision.
